

PLANTMASTER

Dairymaster choose BMSvision to supply wireless Manufacturing Execution System

Operating from their head office in Causeway (Co Kerry, Ireland), Dairymaster have been at the forefront of innovative milk parlour systems for over 40 years. For their dairy farm equipment manufacturing, Dairymaster undertook a detailed analysis of potential Manufacturing Execution System (MES) suppliers before selecting BMSvision as their partner. BMSvision's PLANTMASTER system will provide Dairymaster with real-time visibility of machine performance and quality reporting.

quality standards

Dairy-master are unique in that over 95% of the components for their range of milking, feeding and scraping systems are manufactured in-house to ensure the highest quality standards for their customers. Like BMS, Dairy-master take pride in their unfaltering commitment to customer service and support at all times.

Injection moulding machines and manual assembly stations will be connected to the BMSvision PLANTMASTER MES using BMSvision's wireless Data Units, providing a system architecture that offers considerable savings on cable installation costs to the customer.

To provide real-time visibility of machine performance, quality information and also energy consumption data, the very latest PLANTMASTER system will prove an invaluable tool. Furthermore, operatives will be able to configure ad-hoc reports with the user-friendly and powerful design tools provided by PLANTMASTER.

real-time

The need for manual data entry of production schedules etc will be removed through integration of an automatic link between PLANTMASTER and Dairy-master's existing scheduling system. This will empower users with real-time information on order progress on the shop floor.

About BMSvision
